

Ayou aware that the local Nashville CBS station WTVF actually showed the striptease again on the news on Monday? Now, I didn't see either event, but if it was so awful in the first place, and if the FCC is going to fine "them", then why did they show it AGAIN!!! Plus, not only were the song lyrics horrible, but the dancing that was going on and the grabbing of the respective crotches only made it worse. "Oh, and by the way, we will be having a football game before the show." I'm sick of the whole thing, which is why I went and did something else as soon as the half was over. And another thing...the stupid commercials. Who thought any one of them was funny/good/interesting? The one that really teed me off was the one with the wife yelling at her husband, the referee. SICKENING!!!
